S. S. Auslander Breaks Into the Case
by Employing Counsel to Assist the Prosecution—Negroes Convicted of Robbery.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, March 14.—A jury was secured shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon to try Edward Whalen, charged with the murder of Harry Solomon on November 3, last. The twelfth juror selected was Lawrence Francis of Connelville. The 12 jurors are as follows: Frank Kyle, Belle Vernon; Henry Storey, Brownsville; William Lutzey, Bellefonte; Arthur H. Stauffer, Connelville township; James W. Hamilton, Washington township; F. C. Hungen, Rector township; Clark L. Wilson, Connelville; Darrah Armstrong, Connelville; Solomon Miller, South Union township; Henry Geiger, German township; William C. Bishop, Connelville; and Lawrence Francis, Connelville.

S. S. Auslander, who has taken a great interest in the prosecution because of his friendship for the murdered man, occupied a chair at the Commonwealth's table, yesterday afternoon and frequently interjected suggestions. Whether these were not received in a spirit satisfactory to Auslander is not known but this morning he employed Attorney L. B. Brownfield to assist in the prosecution.

The special venire of 50 citizens summoned by Sheriff John follows: William Allison, Thomas Anderson, Darrah Armstrong, Lucius Doring, Nick Harbo, George Baskley, William Dayton, F. C. Hungen, William Bishop, John H. Hall, J. E. Dure, George W. Dure, J. J. Caudley, Danton Crowley, John B. Davis, John Temple, Lawrence Francis, J. L. Parnum, Charles Galloway, John Gillen, Henry Geiger, Steven Gould, Clark L. Wilson, John F. Hogsett, J. H. Huggins, Frank P. Henshaw, Patrick Hinson, F. C. Hastings, Joseph Kramer, L. A. Kalk, T. H. Kelly, Alex Labin, A. D. Lockhart, Martin Lally, Victor May, Solomon Miller, Frank Murrell, D. M. Miller, Martin P. Murphy, Aaron Mount, William McCormick, Charles McMillan, Walter McCormick, Patrick Reagan, J. M. Roberts, William Ryan, J. A. Rival, Frank Sullivan, George L. Sherbon, Joe Sutt, and the special venire included men from Uniontown, Connelville, Brownsville and other points in the county. When it became known that the Sheriff was looking for jurors, business men sidestepped and dodged to keep out of Sheriff John's sight. Many of the "regulars" made special trips up and down the streets of Uniontown and passed the sheriff many times in hope of being summoned. They thought they might secure the One "regular" passed Sheriff John five times but the Sheriff paid little attention to him.

Through Attorney F. D. Munson the Royal Muttel & Farnell Company entered a suit for $151.27 against Kate G. Wallace of Connelville, on Tuesday. The plaintiff company claims the amount is due for furniture sold to the defendant as the Wallace Furniture Company.

Frank Wilson, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was released from jail on Tuesday by order of Judge Van Swearingen. It was brought to the court's attention that Wilson's wife and two children are in a serious condition and on the verge of starvation. Wilson lives on Prospect street, Uniontown. His sentence was suspended that he might provide for his family.

The prosecution against Principal Roy S. Mincer, principal of the Fairchance schools, was dropped by C. T. Victor, the prosecutor, on condition that Mincer pay the costs with the understanding that none would go to Commonwealth's witnesses. Mincer was prosecuted as the result of trouble in the Fairchance schools which would be by the principal applying the birch to Victor's small son.

J. P. Mincer, an aged man, Mary Mincer, his daughter, and Roy Trim-bath were placed on trial just before noon charged with malicious mischief. They tore down part of a fence belonging to Elizabeth Fuller, near Haydens-town; there is a dispute whether they tore down the rest of it or the destruction was committed by mischievous boys on Haydens town night. The prosecu-trix blames the whole thing on the defendant, who claim they only re-moved a sufficient portion of the fence to give access to the public road, thus avoiding a round about passage.

Through Attorney H. George May the Hamilton Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis has entered suit against John Irwin to recover $291.48 for merchandise purchased from them. In the matter of the report of the auditors in 1909 purchasing the County Commissioners, the court handed down an order directing the auditors to file a statement of claim within 10 days and the Commissioners filing their affidavit of defense within 16 days. The same course was ordered in the purchase against the school directors of North Union township in the same year.

County Auditors Still at Work

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, March 14.—The County Auditors this morning resumed testimony in the bridge case. Clerk Robert Powell and Commissioner Blaney on the stand. Commissioner Blaney admitted previous knowledge that the foundations of the Galley Run bridge were not to the depth required by the specifications but declined to state why he did not make this knowledge public or stop payment on the work.

Blaney shifted the inquiry this morning by questioning whether County Controller Kislenger had the power to appoint his deputy. Blaney thought the Commissioners had that power. Legal advice on the matter was that the Controller made the appointments while the salaries are fixed by the Commissioners. The salaries of Deputy Ash P. Williams and Clerk Earl Huston have not been fixed.

Got Tooth Out; Had Jag Also

William Jones worked the old odontological excuse for last night's jag when he faced Burgess Evans in police court this morning. Jones came to town from beyond Lehighing last night with the intention of having a tooth pulled. He took a couple of drinks, whether before or after the operation was not stated, and the drinks proved two too many.

Burgess Evans evidently has sound teeth because he did not appreciate the prosecution Jones had for getting drunk and fined him $3.50. Jones will spend 18 hours in the lockup, a good thing for his teeth as he will keep him out of the cold air for that length of time. Charles Donka, who works no place but lives at Lehighing No. 2, was also given 48 hours for his jag.

Officer O'Bryon Finds Lost Boy

Wild Animal at Broad Ford.

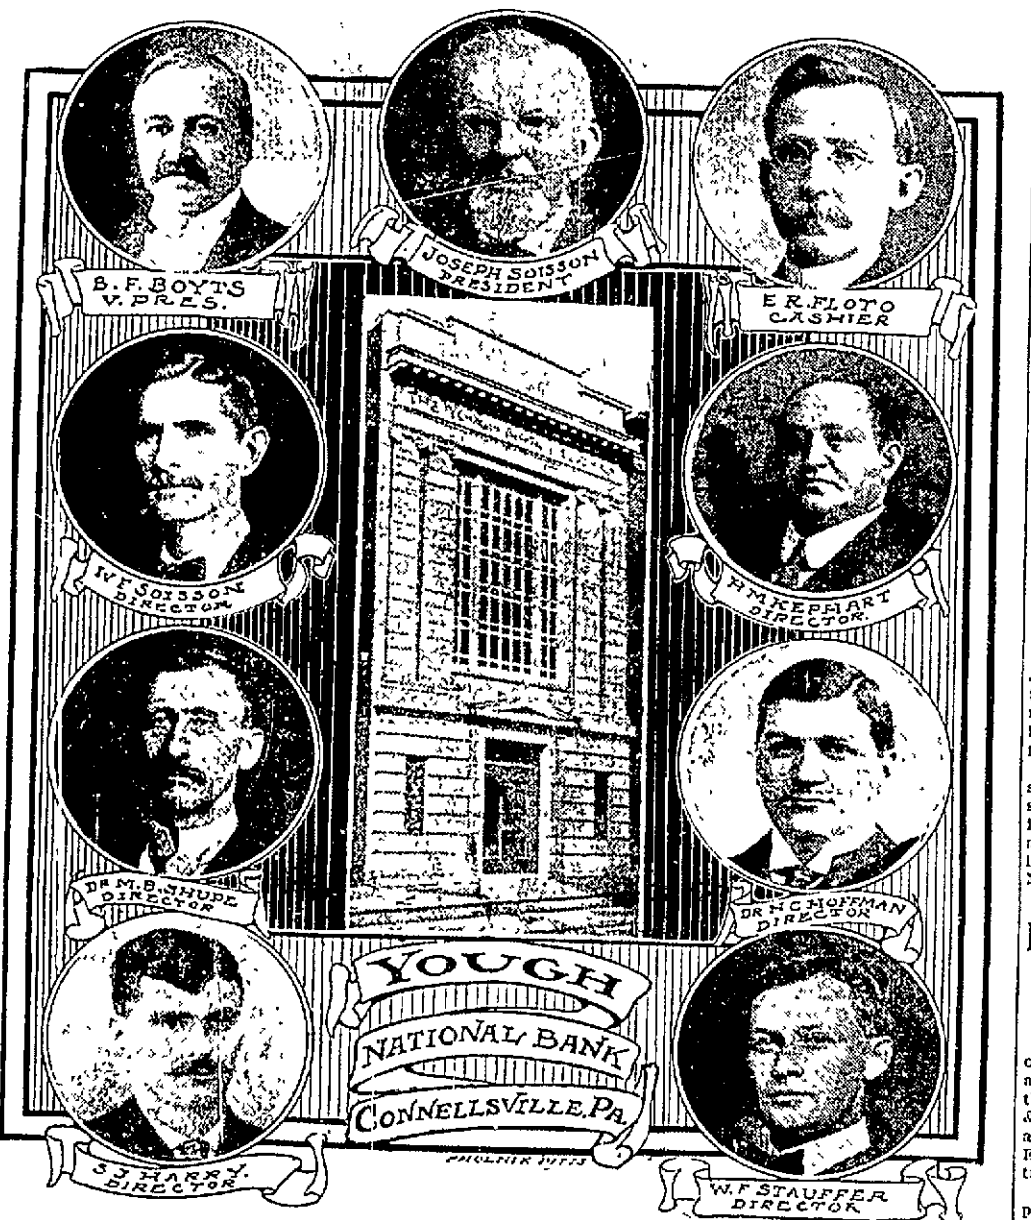

A wild cat or some sort of wild feline is making its headquarters about the plant of O. Overholt & Company's distillery at Broad Ford. The animal has been seen several times at night by employees. The supposition is that it is a wild cat that perhaps came in from the West in a car of staves.

Yegmen Rob Bank.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14.—(Special.)—Yegmen blew up the Rushville bank here this morning and secured $1,000 in cash. The wife of the cashier died from the shock.

YOUGH NATIONAL IN NEW HOME; NOW OLDEST BANK IN NEWEST HOME WITH SPLENDID RECORD BEHIND IT Began Business on Water Street in 1871, Was Organized as National Bank in 1893, Has Paid Out Over $200,000 in Dividends, Has $75,000 Surplus, $10,000 Undivided Profits and a Bright Future—Rapid Strides Have Been Made Under Present Directorate.

When the banking day began this morning the oldest existing bank in the newest building in the newest town in the newest county in the newest state in the newest nation began business in the newest home. The Yough National Bank yesterday moved from its old quarters at No. 115 West Main street to the new building it has just erected adjoining the Soloson theatre. The new home was erected at an approximate cost of $60,000. It is worthy of the substantial financial institution whose home it is.

The history of the Yough National Bank has been one of progress, but throughout all the years since its organization in 1871 it has not pushed forward more insistently than since 1905, when Eugene H. Floto assumed the position of cashier. The Yough National Bank is made up of progressive men, the leading citizens of Connelville. Its officers and directors are: President, Joseph Soloson; Vice President, B. F. Boyts; Cashier, Eugene H. Floto; W. F. Soloson, Dr. M. B. Shupe, H. M. Kepner, S. J. Harry, Dr. H. C. Hoffman and W. F. Stauffer. The directors represent the best of Connelville business and professional life. There is a most agreeable combination of conservative old age and aggressive youth to bring the best results.

Since its organization in 1871 the bank has paid 75 dividends ranging from 3 to 6 per cent. semi-annually. The total dividends paid out have reached the high total of $200,750, but (Continued on Sixth Page)

Ernest Gamble Taken for Spy

Suspected of being a spy, Ernest Gamble, the bassist of McKeesport, and who has recently sung in Connelville, was recently roughly handled by a couple of Mexican soldiers and the noted singer spent several hours in a guard-house at Juntar before he was able to prove his identity and convince the angry Mexicans that he was neutral and had no intention of injuring Mexico.

A camera and Mr. Gamble's desire for pictures of camps of Mexican soldiers caused the trouble. Mr. and Mrs. Gamble and their concert company have been touring Mexico and the western States and a few days ago they were in Juntar, where many soldiers are camped. Mr. Gamble has a fine collection of pictures taken by him during his travels over the world, and he thought to add to it. He had taken several pictures upon a dirt-roof church building on the top of which was camped a number of soldiers he prepared to take another picture. He was just about to complete the work when he was grasped roughly from the rear and hustled to a guardhouse, where he was searched and relieved of his camera. It was several hours before influential friends got Mr. Gamble out of his predicament.

A Commission to Grant Licenses

United Press Telegram
HARRISBURG, Mar. 14.—There is a report that an excise commission bill will go into the Legislature today. The plan is to have a commission of three men in each county to grant liquor licenses. They are to serve for three years.

The Governor is to suggest 12 names in each county and from among the number the judges are to appoint the commissioners. There is nothing so far to indicate that the leaders are back of the legislation.

Watchman's Shanty Burns Last Night

The fire department was called out at 10:30 last night because of a fire in the watchman's shanty in Apple street near the ruins of the McCrory brick-ing. The shanty was burned up and for a time the fire raged.

Prompt application of chemicals soon put the fire out, but the shanty structure was a total loss. This morning the wind caused the guy wires about the whistle to vibrate, resulting in several bolts being sounded. Chief Mitchell remedied the difficulty.

MAY NOT ELECT MAN THURSDAY.

More Time to Be Asked by School Board if Local Candidate Loses.

ANOTHER WEEK TO INVESTIGATE

Fight Has Simmered Down to Bell and Anti-Bell Factions With Ashe
Supporters Trying to Round Up the Anti-Bell Votes.

It was stated today that there is a probability of no successor to Borough Superintendent W. S. Deffenbaugh will be elected at the special meeting of the School Board Thursday night unless a local man is chosen to the position. If there is an indication that the board cannot decide upon a local candidate, efforts will be made to defer the election for another week to investigate the qualifications of the out of town candidates.

There is considerable electioneering going on. The fight seems to have simmered down to the adherents of Principal George H. Bell of the South Side school and the anti-Bell element. Among the members of the board there is a strong anti-Bell sentiment in some quarters and these members, it appears on the surface, are not exerting their efforts in behalf of any particular candidate. They are pulling the wires to have the candidacy of Principal Bell effectively blocked.

Principal Bell has not yet filed his application for the position. At the same time he is not inactive. His friends are strongly urging that the board cut the office to fit the man rather than selecting a man to fill the office. The Bell adherents seek to have a position of Superintendent of Grades created. There is considerable opposition to this move, many directors doubting the wisdom of having two heads to the school system, one in charge of the grades and the other in charge of the High School, with divided responsibility and every opportunity for friction to develop. They also argue that after Connelville becomes a city the law insists that it elect a Superintendent of Schools, with authority over the entire system, making the move in Mr. Bell's favor, if successful, only temporary.

The supporters of Prof. S. P. Ashe of the High School are not idle. They are endeavoring to round up the opponents of Principal Bell on the strength of the argument that if there is opposition to Mr. Bell should be centered on one candidate and not scattered among several.

There are a number of out of town applicants for the position. William F. Wentzell, supervising principal of the German township schools, was here yesterday visiting the directors. Applications have also been received from Albert W. Goert, principal of the Westville High School, and Joseph W. Carroll, principal of the Huntingdon High School, brother of Mrs. Hol-don Carroll, now an instructor in the local High School.

Superintendent L. L. Goidy of the Mt. Pleasant schools has been shown from the race as has W. Lawrence Kulp, head of the Mt. Pleasant Institute. Mr. Kulp could not have accepted the position here, in event of his election, until after the close of the institute's term.

To Finish Bridge Middle of April

Division Engineer J. J. Palmer of the Connelville & State line railroad said today the west bridge at Othello will be completed by the middle of next month. This is one of the largest bridges on the system because of its great height. The piers and abutments are practically completed.

The bridge is approximately 600 feet long and at the highest point is 100 feet above the low water mark of the river.

LEAGUE CHAMPS GET TOGETHER.

Looks Like McKeesport and Do Neri Will Meet in So-ries of Games.

EASTERN LEAGUE WILLING

There is no question but that Andy Sears Will Consent to the Series and Arrangements Are On—Games in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

It begins to look like a series of games between the McKeesport and Do Neri champions of the Central and Eastern leagues for the championship. The Hudson River league are out of it because of the invasion of Central league players into the ranks there at the close of the season in this section. But McKeesport and Do Neri will probably tie up for a number of games, played at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The series would be of great interest to the basketball fans of the Central league and should prove a profitable venture. Speaking of the series, the Philadelphia North American said yesterday:

While the Eastern basketball league championship has not been clinched yet, it almost looks like a sure thing for Do Neri, yet difficulties could arise that may heat it out. Only three more weeks and then for the world's championship, the first ever played in the history of league basketball. There have been so-called world's championship games, under the supervision of the A. A. U., when the Germans won the title several years ago at St. Louis. But basketball has grown since then, and the strongest teams are now in the professional leagues.

The Buffalo Germans still claim the title as an independent team, but they play Y. M. C. A. rules, which are away behind the times, and meet mediocre teams. It is doubted very much whether the Buffalo team is in the same class with the professional league teams.

It was first contemplated to have a three-cornered fight for the big title between the pennant winners of the Hudson, Central and Eastern leagues, but as the Hudson River league is using Central League players, thus padding up to beat one another, the New Yorkers cannot be considered in the championship.

Trey looked like sure winners, when Kingston secured Joe Fogarty of the Johnston Central league team, and it now looks like Kingston. It is not because the McKeesport or Eastern league is the pennant winner who would be afraid of Kingston, but the principle of padding up at the end of the season is not good sport. The Eastern league teams had more opportunity to pad up with Central league players than did the Hudson River league, but the latter league is pursued by the Eastern, and the league finishes the season with the same players it started with. Just as soon as Do Neri clinches the Eastern pennant, all arrangements for the series will be made.

Manager Andrew McSwiggin of the Duquesne Gardens, of Pittsburgh, has offered two dates for two of the games to be played in Pittsburgh, being the week of April 19 to 21, but the teams want an earlier date. One thing is assured, the opening game will be played at Mutual Fund hall, on Saturday, April 1.

The Eastern management would like to have the season and third games played at Pittsburgh on April 1, 5 or 6, and the fourth game at Mutual Fund hall, Saturday, April 8. It is proposed to play five games in the series, and if the fifth game is won, it will be played on a neutral floor to be selected later.

The interest is intense over the series, and the only question bothering the local management is how to accommodate all the persons who wish to see the games. Demands are already being made for seats.

The referees will be selected from Zane and Ketz of the Central league, and Hartzel, Minton, Curt, Wright of Stratton of the Eastern league.

The Eastern League established a precedent when Reading played and won a double header the same night. Two games have been played in one day, but never in league history has the same team played two games the same night. To defunct to establish a new Eastern League scoring record, in the work for Reading, and it deserves great credit.

Do Neri now has seven games more to play. It meets Jasper, Trenton and Reading at home and goes to Trenton twice, at Camden and at Jasper. Jasper looks as if it will hold on to second place, while Reading and Greystock are fighting hard for third place, with the chances in favor of the latter.

Reading has only one more game at home, while Greystock has three. Trenton and Camden are fighting to keep out of last place. The standing of the clubs in the different leagues follows:

Sixth Week of the Dunbar Revival

Rev. Gladden will be in charge of the meetings, which will continue the remainder of the week. For several weeks he was assisted by his father, Rev. W. H. Gladden of Hontydale, Pa., former pastor of the local Methodist Protestant church. Since the meetings began 185 persons have professed conversion. A delegation of 20 from Owenale was present.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAR. 14, 1911.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK
IN THE COKE REGION.

Despite divers direct threats of an extraordinary character, business conditions in the Connelville coke region, and in the industrial world generally, continue to hold their materially improved position and give promise of still further advancement.

The country is confronted with several conditions disturbing to business. Chief among these are: (1) The Democratic threat of prolonged tariff tinkering; (2) the threatened embargo with Mexico; and (3) the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission refusing the railroads permission to make a general advance in freight rates.

While it is quite probable that the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada will be put into the form of law, it is altogether unlikely that there will be any further changes in the present tariff law. It is, therefore, likely that business will discount the political situation, as it has often done before, and this shadow will be lifted.

The Mexican situation is alarming only to the very timid. It is now evident that the purpose of the American Government in moving troops along the border is to lend its influence to the pacification of the country, the restoration of order, the protection of life and property, and by no means incidentally the large investments of American capital in the disturbed districts. The protection of American capital should be reassured rather than disturbing to business. The Mexican invasion problem is to be solved in the near future, and this danger will be banished.

The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, refusing the railroads permission to make a general advance in freight rates, has been followed by threats of retrenchment, which is to say restriction of orders for rails and other materials, and possibly reductions in the working forces. But this has, to great extent, been already anticipated, especially in the industrial world. The steel and coke manufacturers have no objection to the decision. They have all reduced the prices of their products and at the same time cut their wages. They are no particular reason why the railroads should be any better treated than they are, especially when that treatment is largely at their expense.

The American Metal Market, a well informed industrial journal, reviews the freight rate decision in the following manner: The iron and steel industry is to be congratulated upon the fact that the country has been suffering from the high cost of living. The iron industry has made its adjustment. It is obtaining only from three-fifths to two-thirds as much for its pig iron as in 1907, while the cost of the finished steel has come down from 2.075 in 1907 to 1.525, a decrease of over 25%. At the same time the iron and steel industry is paying slightly higher wages, and in many cases paying higher freight rates to the railroads than in the year 1907. The government has embargoed this curbing of the railroads as one means to encourage a reduction in the cost of living, and the iron industry, which has made its own adjustment, should feel encouraged.

The conception that the freight rate advances in contention involved any sum of money through the expenditure of which the iron industry could be benefited was absolutely preposterous. The current estimate that $20,000,000 annually was involved. The product of the iron and steel industry, valued at the stage of manufacture at which material customarily goes to railroads, when it goes to the consumer at all, may be estimated at fully $125,000,000 in a good year, such as the iron industry would like to see. Of this sum the whole $20,000,000 would make only 16%, but there was no guarantee that the industry would pay more than $20,000,000, that any part of this miserable $20,000,000 would be expended. It was not the $20,000,000, but the principle of the public guaranteeing returns upon any property for the use of the public, for which the railroads were to be paid.

In the eighth, when the railroads were being built, more than half the iron output went to them. In 1887 over 12,000 miles of new road were built, more than in any year before or since. In that year the country made 4,417,115 tons of pig iron. Last year it made more than four times as much, but railroad consumption was not proportionately increased. In the American Metal Market of July 20, 1908, it was shown that in 1907 a year of heavy railroad consumption, the entire production of the railroads was not as much as 40% of the product of the iron and steel industry as a whole. Last year the proportion was still less. Without going into details, we may note there was about 2,000,000 tons of rails this balance of our production of 8,500,000 tons. The balance of the rails, trrolley line rails, etc., becomes a large item. The balance of the rails, trrolley line rails, etc., becomes a large item. The balance of the rails, trrolley line rails, etc., becomes a large item.

The Courier has been a persistent and consistent advocate of living railroad rates and living railroad wages, but it has never for one moment lost sight of the fact that the public also mately foots the bill. In all the walks of life the consumer must pay the freight, but the freight rates must be regulated to a scale of wages sufficient to enable the workman to support himself and family in comfort, to enable the manufacturer to lay down his wares in domestic or foreign markets in competition with other producers and to earn sufficient income to pay the stockholders of the transportation companies reasonable dividends on their investments.

OH, YOU BASEBALL THOUGHTS!
Spring Puzzle Picture: What are most of us thinking about nowadays?

It is the province of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate railway charges on this basis, and applying the rule the commission has said that in its view the railroads are getting their fair share. The railroads are suspected are ready to abide by this decision, but they naturally kick a little if for no other reason than to justify their contention.

Upon the whole, there is nothing in the situation which should seriously shake the confidence of the business world, and evidently there is not. Business is actually going forward rather than backward. If its advance is slow it is due to wise caution. It does not want to stumble, and nobody wants it to fall.

The Board of Examiners of the 9th Pittsburgh District has taken a stand which should be followed by every other examining board in the Pittsburgh coal fields. It is announced that the examiners will require positive evidence that the applicant is a person of temperate habits and sound character. Little attention has been paid to this requirement and in times of insufficient supply mine and mine operators have cut their prices freely with regard to their qualifications of any sort. At other times they have been content to let their mines be operated by a man of mine who is one of great responsibility and it should be filled by other and sensible people. Better shut a mine down than blow it up.

T's Seventeenth of Ireland is in sight. Get out the green tie and the shamrock, everybody, all together for the honor of good old Saint Patrick.

Harriaburg's Hill district is getting busy.

The snakes haven't had a good sleep this winter. There has been too much thundering much racket.

Eggs are dropping; that is, the price is dropping.

The harem skirt has invaded the Pittsburgh churches. There is a suspicion in the minds of the rich that it is a divided allegiance.

The Illegals School debates which take the form of amateur pugilism on the public streets cannot be tolerated by the law. It's all right if the contestants live a full and charge admission, but free exhibitions on the public thoroughfares don't go.

Connelville and Uniontown are not so far apart after all. They meet amicably on the Mount Braddock farm.

Our fire alarm system evidently needs regulation.

The oldest banking institution in Connelville is comfortably housed in the new bank building, and the building is highly creditable to the bank and the town.

It is difficult to understand how a man can be maintained against a common carrier for hauling a commodity the title to which is in dispute. It would seem reasonable to think that the dispute was between the shipper and the claimant.

The plumbers have a lead pipe cinch on Connelville's hospitality this week.

The Harriaburg is practicing on the R. & P. just now, especially the common carrier for hauling a commodity the title to which is in dispute. It would seem reasonable to think that the dispute was between the shipper and the claimant.

The County Auditors took a look, too.

The U. S. Mine Rescue car has nothing on the U. S. Police Car. The mine rescue station at Lonsdale, Pa., had the notable policeman machine for the rescue car was built and equipped.

Spring is stirring with us. The open grate continues to take the toll of infant life. The garbage wagon is respectfully but firmly requested to be less liberal in its free distributions.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Grantville, Vt.—"I was passing through the change of life and suffering from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter. Lydia E. Pinkham, R. F. D., Grantville, Vt."

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing women's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Do You Know

Why?

Our store is crowded from the moment we open the doors until we close. Very simple, as quickly as a customer leaves our store loaded with the wonderful bargains, that customer sends us his or her neighbors, and they find that what we advertised is so, and they send us some more customers.

For real bargain-giving, it has no equal. Every day we put out extra bargains on the lines and on the counters.

Walk-Overs Are Good. Every grain of quality, every stitch of honesty, every turn of skill that could be put into a good lasting shoe is employed in the manufacture of Walk-Overs at $3.50 and $4.00.
